in global processes. We would like to be able to provide youth led organizations with funding to strengthen their organizational capacity because we believe it will improve meaningful youth engagement and lead to sustainable change.

Our organization is making the most progressing creating mutually respectful partnerships. We work directly with youth-led organizations and from the onset of our partnership we make an effort to name the different expertise that each of us bring to the relationship. For example, we provide advocacy expertise, but our partners bring a greater knowledge of their country context and the opportunities and barriers young people face in accessing SRH services.
